

New WFH Study Reveals Strange Employee Habits

Citrix has released its report on remote working, which found that 34 percent of employees take showers during the workday, 25 percent wear pajamas, and 22 percent sleep in until the last possible moment. Tim Minahan, EVP of Strategy at Citrix, joined Cheddar to discuss the results.

To read this article, please visit Cheddar