

Citrix Among Top Collaboration Platforms

Company named to Constellation ShortList of solutions fueling new models for work through secure file sharing and content management

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. – August 26, 2020 – Collaboration has never been more important – or challenging. As employees around the world continue to work remote, they must find ways to connect with the people and information they need to get things done, wherever they happen to be. And according to Constellation Research, Citrix® Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ:CTXS) is among the top platforms they can use to do it in an intelligent, secure and reliable manner. The company today announced that it has been named to the 2020 Constellation ShortList™ for Enterprise File Sharing and Cloud Content Management, an evaluation designed to help companies select the right technologies to share and manage content and move their business forward.

“With the lines blurring between traditional content management and file sharing, collaboration platforms are no longer just for cloud storage but are vital to better support the millions of workers who have gone remote this year,” said Dion Hinchcliffe, Vice President and Principal Analyst, Constellation Research. “The best collaboration platforms proactively enable context-centric business processes that deliver game-changing results for the organizations that wield them.”

And according to the 2020 Constellation ShortList, Citrix is among them. The annual measure evaluated 40 solutions across 18 criteria, including:

- Administrative control
- Analytics
- Automation/workflow
- Business partner ecosystem
- Client access options
- Collaborative features
- Compliance
- Deployment options
- Licensing options
- Intelligent document features
- Integration with other tools and business platform
- Search and discovery capabilities
- Security

And Citrix was identified as one of “8 Solutions to Know.” Citrix Workspace™ is a secure, intelligent, and high-performing digital workspace platform designed to help improve the employee experience.

It organizes, guides and automates everyday tasks, boosting productivity and generating the sense of accomplishment that helps foster engagement and innovative work. In short, the Citrix Workspace replaces a user experience filled with distractions, context switches, and complexity with a simpler way to work. One that unlocks innovation, engages employees, and drives better business results. It also gives IT more visibility and control for simplified management, security, and compliance.

“At Citrix, we believe technology should empower organizations to deliver a better employee experience, where people have the tools they need to work the way they want, and where personal progress and purposeful work are the priority, because that’s what drives business success,” said Vishal Ganeriwala, Vice President, Product Marketing, Citrix. “We are pleased to be recognized by Constellation as a solution companies can use to remove the noise and complexity from work and give employees the space they need to create, think, explore and succeed.”
