

Is Your Employee Experience Broken?

A recent Citrix survey that highlighted the importance of empowering employees to help improve company productivity and business outcomes also showed how crucial it is for companies to focus on providing a superior employee experience to successfully attract and retain the right talent. TechHRseries spoke with Citrix Chief People Officer Donna Kimmel about this research and its top findings.

To read the article, please visit TechHR Series