

Remote workers being given too many tools: Citrix

Employees left working from home amid the COVID-19 pandemic feel they've been given too many collaboration tools but not enough efficient ways to execute their roles, research from Citrix indicates.

To read the article, please visit Technology Decisions.